LONDON, June 16 and 18.

A Letter from a Surgeon in the Service of the Dutch East-India Company to his Friend in Amsterdam.

Columbo, (in the Island of Ceylon) Nov. 16. 1740.

HAVING sent you an exact Account of the extraordinary Events which have fallen out lately at Batavia. I flatter myself that not many better will be sent to Europe; but as from the Nature of the Thing it must in many Respects appear obscure to a Person unacquainted with the State of our Affairs in the Indies, I judge the following short Detail of our Settlement in the Island of Java might be agreeable to you, as well as useful in explaining the said Account.

The Island of Java lies between six and nine Degrees of South Latitude, its Extent is generally computed by the Dutch at 300 Leagues; it is divided into a great Number of small Kingdoms and Principalities dependant on the Emperor of Java, who resides at Catasura, except the Kings of Yapara and Bantam, and the Dutch, who are settled in the Southwest Part of the Island, in that which was formerly called the Kingdom of Yacatra. There was formerly a large Indian City near the Sea side of that Name, in the Neighbourhood of which the Dutch in 1611 raised a Fort called Batavia. in process of Time they destroyed the old Town, and built a fine new City, called by the same Name with the Fort. By degrees it became one of the strongest and most beautiful Places in the Indies, and at last the Capital of all the Dutch Company's Settlements in the East-Indies.

At present the City of Batavia is about a League and a half in Circuit, surrounded with strong Walls, in which there are five Gates, and defended by six good Forts besides the Citadel. The Ports, for there are two, are safe and convenient, the publick Buildings very magnificent, all the private Houses very neat and handsome, and some Judgment may be formed of the Grandeur of the Place, by the Number of Bridges over the River running through it, which is fifty six, besides many more without the Town. The Suburbs taken together contain at least ten times as many Houses as there are in the City itself, and among these there are many very large, adorn'd with fine Gardens, Canals, and shady Walks, which have hitherto rendered it the Pride and Paradise of the Indies.

The City is inhabited chiefly by the Dutch, but in the Suburbs there reside so many Nations they are scarce to be numbered, for Example, Javanese, Chinese, Malayans, Amboinese, Mardykers, Macassers, Timors, Bougis, Banians, &c. besides Portuguese, French, Arminians and other Christians, and vast Numbers of Negro Slaves. Each of the Indian Nations is govern'd by its Chief or Protector, who has a Power of regulating Matters relating to Religion, and of doing Justice in Disputes of little Importance; he also when there is occasion applies in behalf of his People to the Governor, General and Council of the Indies, or to the College of Justice, where are the Supreme Judicatures at Batavia.

It is easy to conceive, that amongst such a mixt Multitude, there arise frequent Broils and Disturbances, especially when it is considered that none of these Nations have much to boast as to their Probity, and as for the Javanese and Chinese, they are without Exception the wickedest and most perfidious People on the Face of the Earth. For this Reason the Government here is necessarily strict, and those who are entrusted with it must be very cautious and circumspect, since besides their frequent Wars with neighbouring Potentates, they are under continual Apprehensions of Domestick Treasons. Such as do not advert to this are apt to think the Company's Proceedings harsh and severe, but those who enter into the true State of things, and take Notice of the many Risques the Dutch Citizens run, are of quite another Opinion.

There are now about twenty Years elapsed since the whole Colony was on the point of being destroy'd by a Conspiracy amongst the Javanese, headed by one Peter Erberfield, the Son of a Dutch Gentleman by an Indian Woman. This Plot was no less than seven Years in Agitation, many thousand Persons were privy to it, and yet it did not break out till a very few Days before the Time fixed for putting it in Execution, which was Friday the 2d of January 1722. The Mother of the chief Conspirator was said to be descended from the antient Kings of Yacatra, and in her Right Erberfield pretended to make himself King, which induced him, tho' a Christian, to consent to the utter Extirpation of all the Europeans, for the bringing to pass of which he had not only corrupted all the Negro Slaves, as well as most of the Inhabitants of Batavia, but had also drawn some of the neighbouring Princes into a Treaty with him, by which they promised to furnish him with 17000 Men. He had also found means to amass a prodigious Quantity of Arms, Ammunition and Provisions in subterraneous Magazines, so that if he had not been discovered, or as many think betray'd by the King of Bantam, it is scarce to be doubted that he would have executed his Design as successfully as he cunningly contrived it.

Many are of Opinion, that such of the Conspirators as were not detected, when Peter Erberfield and his Accomplices to the Number of eighteen suffered Death, plotted the late Insurrection; but be that as it will, the Chinese who were concerned in it were certainly numerous enough to have done their Business, since there were no less than ten or twelve Thousand Families of them in the City of Batavia and its Neighbourhood. These are generally speaking Refugees from China, who chuse to reside here rather than conform to the Custom of the Tartars. They are, take all their Qualities lities together, the worſt ſort of People in the World, ſuperſtituous and bigotted Idolaters, and yet void of any true Principles of Religion; in point of Morals abandoned; perfidious to a Proverb, haughty, treacherons, and cruel beyond Expreſſion; and only protected by the Dutch on Account of their Skill in Commerce, and drawing a great Trade to the Place.

Liſbon, June 27. The Maſter of a French Ship which arrived here the 20th Inſtant from the Mediterranean, reports, that an Engliſh Privateer of twenty Guns, had taken off Cadiz a Spaniſh arm'd Ship, and carried her into Gibraltar, after an obſtinate Fight, wherein ſeveral were kill'd on both ſides.

Rome, July 15. The Congregation of Propaganda Fide received Advice the 10th Inſtant, that Thamas Kouli Kan had ordered all Chriſtians of his Dominions, as well Catholicks as Schiſmaticks, to tranſlate into the Perſian Language the Pentateuch, the Pſalms, Iſaiah, and the four Evangeliſts.

Amſterdam, July 18. The Chineſe taken Priſoners in the Confuſion and Maſſacre at Batavia, confeſs'd that their Deſign was to make themſelves Maſters of that City, and of all the Commerce carried on there; and that if they had ſucceeded in their Attempt they would have impal'd all the Members of the Regency, minced and eaten the Bodies of Meſſrs. Tedens and Imhoff, whom they conſidered as Enemies to their Nation; burnt all the aged Perſons, made Slaves of the Youth of both Sexes, and obliged the General of Batavia, as well as the Company's principal Director, to perform the vileſt Offices about the Chief of the Chineſe Nation and his Wife.

London, June 30. By the Turky Ships lately arriv'd, there's an Account from Aleppo, that one Mr. Elliot, an Engliſh Gentleman, was arriv'd there from Eaſt-India, who reports, that two Muſcovite Ships were arriv'd at Japan from Geneſa in the North Eaſt Part of Great Tartary. This Diſcovery was propoſed to have been attempted by the late Czar Peter.

Haſtings, July 14. Laſt Saturday paſs'd by here Captain Martin, in a large Cuſtom Houſe Sloop well mann'd; being ſpoke with by ſome of our Fiſhermen, he informed them, that he had taken a Privateer with 30 Men off of Beachy, which miſtaking him for a Coaſter, had attempted to board him; and was making the beſt of his way with her to Dover. This Privateer, which is ſomewhat ſurprizing, happens to be the Proſperous of Rye, taken but the 30th of May laſt from Thomas Gilbert and others, and carried into Ruſco in Britanny, and there fitted out a Privateer, and commiſſioned without having ever been in Spain.

We hear that a few Days ago a Faulkſtone Fiſhing Boat off the North Foreland was taken by a Spaniſh Privateer, but afterwards re-taken by other Faulkſtoners, with ſix of the Privateers Men on board, being all French. And that an Engliſh Veſſel was taken in Bologne Road by another Privateer, which being obſerved by the out-law'd Engliſh Smuglers there, they immediately purſued them in their own Veſſels; which the cowardly Privateer obſerving, row'd off, leaving her Prize to be re-taken by thoſe couragious Enterpriſers.

London, July 23. Thurſday Capt. Page, who took a Spaniſh Ship under Dutch Colours, came up the River to the Cuſtom-Houſe; and we hear he has found on board the ſaid Ship ſeveral Bags of Dollars, amounting in the whole to 10,000*l.* And Yeſterday he waited upon the Lords of the Admiralty with Papers of great Importance which he found therein.

There are Letters in Town which adviſe, that the Squadron under Sir John Norris has taken off the Groin two French Ships laden with Spaniſh Treaſure, and carried them into Liſbon.

By Letters Yeſterday from Jamaica, we have Advice, that Commodore Anſon was got round Cape Horn, and was arrived at Panama; and that the Spaniſh Fleet that was gone in queſt of him, was returned, becauſe they could not get round the Cape. They have this News from Panama, by the Way of Porto Bello.

Dublin, July 25. Laſt Wedneſday we had new Wheat ſold in our Market; it was uſher'd in by a Piper playing, and great Numbers of People dancing and huzzaing round it.

Laſt Wedneſday Night died at his Houſe on Pimlico, Mr. Iſaac Summers, a wealthy Quaker, and a fair Dealer; he went to Bed well on Wedneſday Night, and was found dead the next Morning.

London, Auguſt 6. Orders are gone to the War Office for General Guiſe and Blakney's Regiments of Foot to be ſent to the Weſt-Indies.

The Preparations for the Reception of the Soldiers on board the Tranſport Ships being finiſhed, Warrants are ſent down from the Admiralty for the Victualling them with all poſſible Diſpatch.

An extraordinary Quantity of Cannon, both Braſs and Iron, with Powder and Ball, and other Military Stores are ſhipping for Philadelphia and New-York.

Auguſt 8. The Orders for expediting the Tranſports are repeated from above, for which Reaſon the People at the Victualling Office work Night and Day, not excepting Sundays, to get their Proviſions on board.

Auguſt 11. From Faro they write that the Britiſh Squadron had taken five Spaniſh Prizes, and that as the Poſt was going out they brought two more Spaniſh Ships into that Port.

By Letters which came with the laſt Holland Mail we have Advice, that the Swedes had actually block'd up Petersburgh by Sea.

They ſend us a Report from Cologn, that the Bavarian Troops had taken the City of Ulm.

Auguſt 13. The Number of Ships lately taken up into the Service of the Government for the Embarkation of the Forces, we hear, are 30, on board of which Accommodations are made for the Reception of upwards of 3000 Officers excluded, ſome of them containing Barracks for near 200 Soldiers, and none leſs than 70.

Auguſt 15. By the Holland Mail arrived this Day, we have Advice, that the French Troops have actually paſs'd the Rhine; and that the Inhabitants of the Country bordering on that River have carried off their beſt Effects.

'Tis reported that Advice has been brought, that a large Body of French Troops are on the March towards the Frontiers of Hanover; and that the Swediſh Admiral going to attack the Ruſſian Fleet at Cronſtadt, fell on a Reef of Rocks, and nine of them were loſt.

NEW-YORK, October 12.

Laſt Week arrived here ſeveral Veſſels from Europe, one of which in 31 Days from Dover, whence we hear, that a French War is ſtill daily expected, and that Sir John Norris with his Fleet is return'd.
